ENTRIES FILLING UP FOR THE FOURTH.

Cummins Has Plenty of Water at Pearl Harbor—The Time Allowance Bugaboo Once More.

The following entries have been made so far in the yacht races for the Fourth of July. There are a number of the third class yachts that will positively enter, although they have not yet filed their application. Fourth class: Clyde, T. W. Hobron, Abbie M. H. M. Dow, Malolo, H. Waterhouse, Third class: Hihimannu, A. Waterhouse; Kalki, A. W. von Valkenburg; Myrtle, G. A. Crozier; Pirate, N. A. Chapman. First class: La Paloma, C. W. Macfarlane; Helene, W. G. Irwin; Gladys, T. W. Hobron.

Eight may be carried as crew in the first class yachts, six in the second, four in the third and fourth classes. There has been some discussion as to the placing of the boats in the classes without time allowance. The Clyde and Malolo have been cited as examples for the fourth class. The owner of the Clyde, Commodore Hobron, does not desire any time allowance, and without it won all the races in the fourth class on the initial cruise of the Hawaii Yacht Club. The object of the club is to place the boats in the classes to which they nearest approximate without any attempt at handicapping on time limit which usually proves a source of more dissatisfaction than racing boats entirely on their merits.

The triangular course gives all the boats opportunities for their various points of sailing and the superior cunning of their skippers usually wins the day. In the second heat for the port captain's cup, the Princess ran away from the rest of the fleet and won from the scratch boat, the Myrtle, by a liberal allowance over the regular handicap. The Myrtle has a little the best of the bargain on the new course, but her ordinary gain is cut down by putting her in the third class boats without a handicap. Under allowance rules, the Myrtle being of such diminutive racing length, would get an advantage that would be impossible for the other yachts to overcome, amounting to something like fifteen minutes.

So with the Myrtle. Under handicap rules her cabin would give her a handicap which she has proved that she does not need by chasing the speedy Myrtle down from Puloa to Honolulu on the first cruise and finishing within sixty seconds. The non-handicap races are altogether found to be more satisfactory.

Owners of small yachts are slow in getting in their measurements and are apt to be altering rig all the time and necessitating re-boat. It has generally been found the best plan for every skipper to rig and sail his craft to the best of his ability and let the best man win.

The criticisms passed as to the ability of the Cummins to cross Pearl Harbor bar are generally deemed entirely superfluous. Walter E. Lee stated this morning that the Cummins has already passed the bar with heavy baggage in tow. Captain Seattle moreover knows every inch of the lochs and has negotiated the bar in all kinds of weather and craft. The bar has been deepened since the dredger has been at work, and there will be plenty of water under the keel.

HEALANIS REHEARSALS

PROGRAM PROVES TO BE FIRST CLASS.

Many Localisms Will Catch the House. Solos are Unusually Well Chosen. Clever Sketches.

The Healan Entertainment was successfully rehearsed before a small and select audience on the opera house stage last evening. The soloists who have been secured are of an unusually high order of merit and the first part will include baritone, tenor and basso solos, piano solo and guitar, clarinet and cornet selections. T. W. Johnston an ex-professional has a torch throwing and baton twirling act that proves him a marvel of dexterity, the first part including the celebrated "Round round go between Weekday and Noddy" as typified by Renner and McDuffie.

A series of sketches constitutes the second half of the program. Music by the quart is dispensed from four dozen odd glasses by Professors Livingstone and Conkling. "Weather While you Wait" will be handled by Stuart Webster, Allan Dunn, James Dougherty, Frank Woodbridge, Guy Livingston and W. D. Adams. Both these sketches bristle with localisms and if they are appreciated on the night one half as much as they were at rehearsal will keep the audience in a roar.

The Warsaw Brothers late of the World's Entertainment will present one of their unimpeachable sketches and the two hours' entertainment concludes with another farce especially written for the occasion and called "Curing a Toothache" or the "Rabbit's Panacea". This is introduced by W. D. Adams, Lovette Rockwell and Allan Dunn. A final rehearsal has been called for Thursday evening.

There is not a dull number in the whole program, the solos are well chosen and all the dialogue of the various sketches lively and bright. The entertainment is strictly limited to two hours the rehearsal being timed and the final program arranged on that schedule.

NOT THE ONLY BISHOP. His Lordship Bishop Willis will not be the only Bishop in Tonga. News comes by the Moana that his Lordship Bishop Lamaze and Rev. J. E. Moulton arrived in Tonga May 21 by the schooner Yaabel from Noue.
